NEW MEXICO PAPERS BOOMING THE FAIR

Many of Them Devote Much Space to Big Annual Event.

SOMETHING ABOUT KNIGHT'S TRIP

The weekly newspapers throughout the territory this week devote considerable space to the coming New Mexico Territorial fair. Because of limited space it is impossible to quote all of the articles, but below will be found a fair sample:

The Deming Headlight tells of Scott Knight's trip as follows:

Tuesday the Headlight sanctum was pleasantly invaded by Scott Knight, of Albuquerque, who was on his annual visit to the southwestern portion of the territory. Scott never comes down but once a year and he is sure to come that once, the annual occasion being the yearly decoration of every telegraph and telephone pole, sign, and awning post, from Albuquerque south to the Mexican border, with banners and posters varicolored in design, that are well calculated to advertise the great territorial fair of New Mexico, held annually at Albuquerque.

All newspaper manipulators are always pleased to see Scott's handsome countenance darken their doors, as they are then sure of getting the best and most reliable information regarding what will and what will not be found at the next fair.

In conversation with Mr. Knight we were informed that a greater sum, by far, than ever before is being intelligently spent this year to make the fair a success and that nothing is being advanced in the big list of attractions that will not be found there during the fair.

Silver City Also Boosting.
The Silver City Enterprise is also boosting the fair, as will be seen by the following:
Scott Knight, the veteran booster for the Albuquerque Territorial Fair, was in the city Wednesday and left traces of his handiwork on every available telephone and electric light pole in the downtown district, where he confined most of his effort in the bill posting line. Scott has been at this business for a number of years and he says the fair this year will undoubtedly be the best ever held. Scott says, W. H. Greer, president of the fair association, is at present in Portland securing attractions for Albuquerque, and he wouldn't be surprised to see the doughty colonel return to the Duke City with the entire Portland fair under his arm. The Mesilla valley will be represented by a car of the finest fruits and other products of that far famed district. The live stock show will be one of the best features of the fair, and to anyone interested in blooded live stock this feature will well be worth coming hundreds of miles to see as there will be on exhibit pedigreed stock from Kansas, Colorado, Texas, Missouri and New Mexico, and much of this stock will be on sale after the fair. The horse racing and base ball tournament of course, will be the standard attractions and will draw thousands of people from all over the territory. The fair will be held September 18th to 23rd inclusive, and the round trip rate from Silver City will be $8.35.

"York State Folks."
All the furnishings of the interior scenes in "York State Folks," that beautiful rural drama which made such a decided impression upon theatre-goers when presented here last season, including furniture, carpets, ornaments, etc., were secured in the village in central New York where the author has laid the scenes of the play. The lot includes some old family heirlooms which are only loaned for this production upon the giving of security for their safe return. This instance by the playwright upon realistic detail down to the smallest matter of star setting is said to be deplorable in a great measure for the wonderful naturally atmosphere which surrounds the play. The company, which will be seen here next Thursday evening at the Elks' opera house is the original and the same which presented the play here last season.
